First Because I believe him to be as unstable as water—perpetually floundering, to carry out that illustrious simile amid the surges of opinion decient in all the requisites essential to a firm and consistent administration of the Government

Second, Because he has usually been found among the most extreme ultraists on the great questions of political and social duty which have been brought under public discussion during the last quarter of a century

Third Because he has been an advocate—in this instance, persistently—of that most unjust and unequal commercial system which is destroying our mercantile and shipping interests, heaping up enormous accumulations of wealth in the hands of protected classes, to the oppression and impoverishment of all others

Fourth, Because he is associated in relations more or less intimate with some of the chief plunderers in the city of New York, justly warranting the apprehension that through this complicity of his trail disposition the same system of fraud or corruption which has disgraced the municipal government in this city may be carried to more infamous extremes in the administration of the Federal Government

Fifth Because in the darkest hour of the country's peril when a traitorous combination has been formed to overthrow the Government he openly counseled the cowardly policy of non resistance and acquiescence in the dissolution of the Union whenever the Cotton States should make up their mind to go

POLITICAL NOTES

All the Welsh papers in the United States are for Grant and Wilson

There is a Democratic Grant and Wilson Club in the Thirty first Ward, New York City, which has 202 names on its rolls all of whom have before voted with the Democratic party

Gen John A Dix who was claimed for Greeley, has written a letter announcing his intention to support Grant The letter was in reply to an invitation to address a Greeley meeting in North Carolina

Jasper Johnson sat for his photograph at Brady's in New York, a few days ago Frank Leslie's artist took a card and Jasper will soon appear in Leslie's Days Doings as one of the eminent self made men of our time" (Great laughter in Oregon)

The New York Tribune exults because one of Jas Thompson's allies, when Gen Beveridge was making a speech in Chicago a few days ago in which the war was referred to, exclaimed 'Damn the war' There is no more virulent Copperhead sheet than the New York Tribune

Jacob Thompson in the documents recently published, says he had no difficulty in keeping up close communication with the secret organizations of the North organized to carry certain Western States out of the Union, or to carry the horrors of civil war to Northern firesides Greeley is now hand in hand with these men

According to the New York World Jasper Johnson has been sent down to Mississippi "to do" the campaign for Greeley It will be an easy job for Jasper to get away with that State Last year it gave only 24,049 Republican majority A few days ago Jasper was up in Vermont, and made that State sure for Greeley

Thomas W Clarke, member of the Democratic General Committee of New York, has written a letter tendering his resignation and declaring that he will not support Greeley. He says that the Baltimore Convention, "setting up a spurious Democracy, and led away by delusive notions of expediency, have hastily and insanely sold their inheritance for a consideration"

It was rather a cruel rejoinder the Republicans of Michigan made to ex Governor Blair, a recent convert to Greeleyism, who was repeating, among other things, the railing accusations against the President about gift taking They called to mind the fact that while Mr Blair filled the gubernatorial chair he was the recipient of a splendid pair of horses, an expensive carriage, and a pair of beautiful mirrors, from officers of the army

The people of West Virginia are to vote on the adoption or rejection of a new Constitution on the 22d of August, and the general State election is to be held at the same time A New York World correspondent, writing from Wheeling, says the prospects for the regular Democracy at the August election are "subject to many a dark and harrowing perplexity" There are two Democratic candidates for Governor, one of whom is supported by the Republicans who have made no nomination

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS

Think what every family may come to! Mr Stanton and Mr Gage, chiefly known as being respectively the husband of Mrs Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Mrs Josiyn Gage, are both Greeley men while Mrs Stanton and Mrs Gage are both Grant men

One of the most beneficent acts lately performed is the splendid success of the New York Times in raising a fund to give excursions and provide dinners for poor little boys and girls, who were never before out of the great city and within the green fields and woods in their lives The fund raised is nearly $20 000

A little colored boy was taking a Bible lesson and the subject was the Parable of the Prodigal Son Desiring to see if he was favorably impressed, his instructress asked him if he understood what was meant by his "spending his substance in riotous living" "Yes'm, I 'spose he was hangin' round de oyster saloons, and such

The best reply to all the uproar that was made by the meddlesome Cassandras is to be found in the fact that he is dismissed from the diplomatic service by an imperial decree Thus ingloriously ends the most impudent attempt on the part of a foreign Minister to dictate to our Government to interfere with our domestic questions and to make war on our Secretary of State Since the time of Genet there has been no precedent for Catacazy's impudence

The clergymen and the undertakers of Philadelphia have formed what is called a Funeral Trade Union At one of their meetings they adopted resolutions that carriages should be sent for and placed at the disposal of the ministers and that funerals should be discontinued on Sundays With the ministers and grave diggers on a strike of this kind, it only needs that the doctors should join in also, to make it very uncomfortable for the living and the dead

Forty Years a Squaw

The Akron Ohio) Daily Beacon publishes the following interesting narrative

In the year 1831 Mr John M Armstrong resided near Detroit Michigan sent his little daughter Mary a girl of seven years of age unattended off to the district school On the way to school she was kidnapped by the Indians who at that time were found in large numbers about Detroit The stricken parents could scarcely be consoled for the loss of the child and finally gave up all hope of her recovery

When she was taken by the Indians she was carried off to Texas, and suffered untold hardships and privations at their hands In Texas she lived for five years, and when she had reach her twelfth year was compelled to marry Mallery, an Indian warrior The tribe with which she lived then removed to Nebraska, where twelve moons the length of the Indian's married life having passed away, she was no longer the wife of Mallery and was sold to an Irishman David Ward David was a Catholic and was burned at the stake because he refused to abjure his religion after which Mary was carried into another tribe, and there after some years married an Indian Chief called Big Son Big Son soon got tired of his new spouse and sold her to a Mr Crawman a pale face and with him she lived until a sad and unholy event occurred which at once deprived her of her husband and children

Near San Francisco is a place called 'Black Hills which last fall was the scene of a bloody fight between the Digger and Snake Indians Mrs Carman at the time was with the Digger Indians having been sold to them, together with her husband and children, a short time before by the Snake Indians In the battle between the Snake and Digger Indians Mrs Carman's eleven children and husband were killed She alone escaped, and remained with them a short time until an opportunity presented itself, when she fled to San Francisco

From San Francisco, in company with four others she was sent by General Sheridan as far as St Joe, Mo, from which place she is now on her journey to Columbus where her aged father and mother are residing

About ten years ago her father heard of her being yet alive among the Indians, and immediately opened a correspondence with parties in the West to see if he could find any information which would lead to her return to her parents After long waiting the intelligence was conveyed to him that she was found and would soon be in her home, after forty one years of wandering among an[illegible] She has made her way from town to town, and a day or two since reached Kent Until this time she had worn her Indian [illegible], but the Mayor of Kent compelled her to exchange her half civilized garb for one which accorded more with Kent tastes.

Yesterday she reached Akron, and has been here soliciting aid to complete her journey. Such, in brief, is her tale Whether or not she is an impostor, we are unable to tell Certain it is that she tells a straight forward story, and the most rigorous questioning could not cause her to change the leading portion of her narrative She is very intelligent looking and answers all questions very readily and with an appearance of truth and simplicity When Marshal Parker told her he had been among the Indians she commenced talking to him in the Indian language, but the Marshal, not wishing to show his ignorance of the language by inability to reply, 'vamoosed' much to the amusement of the crowd which had gathered about her

"Home, Sweet Home"

SOMETHING OF THE GRAND OLD SONG—ITS AUTHOR AND ITS ORIGIN

John H Payne, the author of that touching and immortal son, 'Home, Sweet Home," was not only poor in pocket, but a homeless wanderer In conversation with a friend, he once gave expression to the following recital

'How often,' said he, 'have I been in the heart of Paris, Berlin, and London, or [illegible] other city, and heard persons playing "Sweet Home,' without a shilling to buy the next meal or place to lay my head The world has literally sung my song until every heart is familiar with its melody. Yet I have been a poor wanderer from my boyhood My country has ruthlessly turned me from office, and in my old age I have to submit to humiliation for my daily bread"

He had the most exact and beautiful expression of the heart's emotion regarding home, and yet personally he was a stranger to all its tender, loving influences. A wanderer, and sometimes a very bond, he has [illegible] the human heart to its very depths by his exquisite lines.

Disgusted with his treatment in his own country and still impelled by his disposition to roam, his only wish was to die in a foreign land, and to be buried by strangers, and sleep in obscurity. He obtained an appointment as United States Consul at Tunis, where he died

We now turn to a period unconnected to the composition of his song At times he was greatly depress

Financial Wisdom

"If," says the Herald, "the election of Grant is to continue this depreciated currency, a people who know their own interests will certainly defeat him. The resumption of specie payments would certainly be one of the most beneficent measures that could be adopted by the Administration, as the continuance of the present policy is a great curse."

This is uttered without judgment, and is in the form of an extremely low appeal for political effect, to the prejudices of the thoughtless and ignorant. Resumption of specie payments would be utterly impossible for a long time yet under any Administration. But the Herald speaks of it as a "beneficent measure,' which the present Administration is censurable for not adopting. This is the Greeley idea of finance. Just announce that the Government will pay gold, but take no thought of where the gold is to come from. Then follows a financial panic and a terrible crash. All business is disorganized, and thousands of men ruined.

All this, however, matters little. The Greeley-Democratic theory of resumption must be enforced, and if the country can't stand it, so much the worse for the country. The theory must be maintained. Such financial wisdom as this could emanate from nowhere so well as from the Academy which Gulliver visited in the kingdom of Laputa.

A Chapter in a Political Party's History

The Democratic party of the United States ought to be very proud of that portion of its history which is revealed by the recent publication of the correspondence of secret agents of the Rebel Government. These precious documents, it will be remembered, were purchased by our Government a short time ago. They furnish cumulative evidence of the connivance of a large portion of the Democratic party, now supporters of Greeley, with the plans of the rebels to bring about a peace and secure the independence of the South. Jacob Thompson, a rebel commissary, was in confidential communication with the organization known as the "Sons of Liberty," whose idea was to prevent the re-election of Lincoln and secure Southern independence. At first it was proposed to do this by force, and arms were prepared for distribution among the members of the order. Thompson in his correspondence, now published, lamented that the vigilance of the Government continually threw obstacles in the way of the enterprise and discouraged and frightened the members. In Indiana the conspiracy was better developed than elsewhere, and a day was appointed for the "great movement." This was frustrated partly by the vigilance of Governor Morton and partly by the timidity of Mr McDonald, then Democratic candidate for Governor. Thompson informed his Government that he had spent a great deal of money in "fostering and furthering these enterprises among the patriotic Democracy of the North."

Part of the plan was to burn Northern cities. Agents were detailed to perform these little jobs, who reported occasionally to their principals in Canada.

Proofs of the connivance of large numbers of Democrats with schemes to aid the South were established fully long ago. These documents, recently brought to light, corroborate these proofs and show conclusively that the treasonable enterprises that were broken up during the war were organized under the direction of rebel emissaries and agents who furnished the plans and the money to back them. The publication of these documents as a recommendation for the Democratic party, is very opportune since they appear at a time when that party is again a candidate for the helm of the country.

In his speech against Grant in the Senate, Sumner sneered at him as a man of whom before the war nothing was known, and who was earning a few hundred dollars a year in tanning hides at Galena. Conkling in his speech at New York thus answered Sumner: "While Senators who are now hawking at him (Grant) were lolling for a fourth term on cushions, and eviscerating encyclopedias, books of quotations, and classical dictionaries, the tanner of Galena swept rebellion from the valley of the Mississippi and the father of waters went unvexed to the sea."

The Oregonian tells us that "15 of the Democrats in North Carolina elected one of the seven members of Congress. The fact is the Democrats elected only four of the seven. There was one vacancy.—Herald."

The fact is the Democrats elected five of the seven. Their names were A M Waddell, S H Rogers, J M Leach, T L Skinner and J C Harper. See Greeley's Almanac for 1871. This year, under the new apportionment, North Carolina gains a member whom the Republicans elect. In 1870 Democrats elected five of the seven. This year they elect five of the eight.

Hot shot,—General Dix's letter on Greeley.

Virginians Against Greeley

There is an excellent prospect that the electoral vote of Virginia will be thrown for Grant and Wilson. A large number of old Democratic leaders there refuse to join the Greeley following, among these is James Lyons of Richmond, a prominent and lucrative politician, who has just written a letter in which he gives Greeley a terrible excoriation. Lyons and his associates will support Grant, but they will support Greeley. They look to be in control of the State Democratic organization, and dictated their new position in his letter as follows:

In light of our poor bleeding, suffering South lying at the feet of her worst foe, begging for favors is intolerable to me. He denounces Greeley as a slanderer of the South and a supporter of all the worst acts levelled against her. Grant he declares, is a man of whom the South may say, 'Great let me call him for he conquered me.' He also says that his greatest error has been that he followed too much the devices and desires of such men as Greeley and Sumner and Trumbull and Schurz and Brown until they have nearly undone him, and now betray him for a price.

If the north pole is not discovered this time it will be because it has such fine facilities among its icebergs for eluding pursuits. There are four expeditions after it. The German expedition goes up on the east side of Spitzbergen, following a plan laid down by Dr Petermann. Captain Hall has gone through Baffin's Bay and Jones Sound into the unknown realms of ice and snow. An expedition left San Francisco last summer for the Polar Sea by way of Behring's Straits, and a Swedish expedition is to set out soon to pass the winter on the northern shore of Spitzbergen and proceed in search of the pole next summer. We hope the object of all this preparation will be found, but we do not know what in the world we shall do with the north pole when we get it.

We must get rid of Grant.—Herald.

So the rebels thought when beleaguered in Vicksburg and Richmond. But they didn't "get rid of Grant."

OREGON

Jackson county is preparing for its Agricultural Fair, to be held early in the fall.

F G Schwatka of Salem has gone to Baltimore as a delegate to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

A letter from Jackson county says "I don't know of a Republican in this county who will vote for Greeley, but I do know of several Democrats who won't."

Of the litigant law the La Grande Sentinel (Dem.) says: The working of this law is a great nuisance. Let it be repealed and consigned to oblivion—it has worked out its own destiny.

The Lafayette Courier says: Jos Henderson of this place owns a number of salt wells in Polk county, about four miles from Amity which, if they were properly worked would yield good returns.

Burglaries and robberies are excessively frequent in Salem. The Statesman gives an account of a batch of half a dozen that have occurred within two days. It is believed the offenders are small boys.

THE TERRITORIES

Politics in Washington Territory were never so quiet.

Chinese in Washington Territory have to pay a poll tax of six dollars or work it out on the public roads.

Great fires are raging in the Blue Mountains near Walla Walla destroying large quantities of wood and rails.

The editor of the Democratic paper at Walla Walla announces the receipt of a Greeley watermelon this week. Next week he will probably announce a case of cholera morbus. Buttered watermelon was what was the matter with Gratz Brown.

Hallett has a force of eleven hundred men at work on the Northern Pacific Railroad beyond the Newakum. There are several deep cuts and heavy fills to make there. It is expected that the track will be laid to Hodgden's by the end of September.

The Tide Turning

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

Since the flush of excitement caused by the Baltimore Convention is over, the current of opinion has set steadily and strongly against the whole Greeley movement. The ablest Republicans who have gone over to the new Democratic combination took the tide at its flood, hoping they might control it. The speeches of Senators Trumbull, Schurz and Fenton, of ex Governor Blair, of Michigan, and a few others, have been printed and widely circulated; but they have failed to create new disaffection or to confirm the old. The Democrats, though practically united in supporting the regular nominations, have as yet shown very little interest in them, and if the election were held now would cast the smallest vote ever given by them in a general election. The greatly improved prospects in North Carolina, where in spite of powerful combined efforts, the Republicans have developed unexpected strength, have also encouraged the friends of the Administration and lowered the arrogant tone of the opposition.

There are various causes for the changes now going on, which can hardly fail to continue in effective operation from this time till the election. The principal one of these, so far as Republicans are interested, is that the opposition of the bolters rests wholly upon personal not at all upon public grounds. With their personal grievances the country has no sympathy, and it is impossible for the three or four millions of Republican voters who have never aspired to an office under the Federal Government, and who do not care a straw for its patronage on their own account, to look upon the President and his administration in the same light with their bitter personal enemies. And they are repelled rather than attracted by the orators and journals who tell them against the evidence of their senses that the President and those around him are prodigies of incapacity and dishonesty. The apprehension of the bolting Republicans, that the Democratic party in a body might not come up to Mr Greeley's support heartily, has led many of them to throw off all pretense of a difference between them, and fight the battle on the old Democratic ground. That also has introduced an element of disguise into the canvass and sent many wavering Republicans back into the ranks where they are working earnestly for the defeat of the new combination. The interest which the Democrats have taken thus far has been mostly a negative sort. They mean to preserve their State and district organizations and secure, with the aid of their new allies, as large a representation in Congress as possible. It will be strange if they do not get some gain out of it. But their support of Mr Greeley is not of the kind which would be flattering to a sensitive man, and is not at all to be trusted in an election where every vote will be needed.

In New England, judging from evidence accumulating from all quarters, the Greeley ticket is weaker than it has been at any time since he was nominated. Many Democrats regard it as odious and declare themselves against it under all circumstances. Few Republicans are for it, and they will not venture to show their hand. The two States commonly classed as doubtful, New Hampshire and Connecticut, were never less doubtful than they are now and throughout New England the intelligent, sober and thoughtful sentiment which has been the strong fortress of Republicanism in the days of its trial is loyal as ever.

OREGON CITY LETTER

FUNERAL OF ARTHUR CHAPMAN—FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT AT THE LOCKS—THE POST OFFICE CRACKED AND ROBBED.

OREGON CITY, August 7, 1872.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

SIR: For moving accidents by flood and field, surely this city can claim the pre-eminence of late. The funeral of Arthur Chapman took place this morning and was attended by every citizen. The Woolen Factory and mills were shut down and all the stores closed and the Fire Department turned out in uniform out of respect to the deceased and sympathy towards his parents. The funeral services were conducted in the Baptist Church by Dr Atkinson and Rev Mr Gerry, after which the remains were conveyed to the Cemetery above the bluff.

Painful to relate, while these sad services were being performed, another human being without a moment's warning, was hurried from time into eternity by an accident across the river, at the Canal and Lock Co.'s works. Wm Dalton, familiarly known as 'Black Bill' had the superintendence of a gang of Chinamen who were employed in filling the "Scale" with the loose rock scattered by the blasting in the deep cut. The 'Scale' is a platform lowered by a derrick in the cut and then loaded with loose rock weighing perhaps three tons. It is then hoisted by a donkey engine and swung around to a car and deposited thereon and hauled off to any place required. Poor Bill had finished loading the "Scale," and gave the signal to "hoist away," which was immediately done. It was raised about twenty five feet, when the strap of the block broke, and the whole weight—"Scale" and rocks—fell on the poor fellow, killing him instantly, the bones of his whole body being crushed. Wm Dalton was an Irishman, about 26 years old, and it is said he has two sisters living in San Francisco. The body has been brought over to this side and now lies awaiting the inquest, when, if any blame lies with anybody, it is probable it will be ascertained to whom it belongs.

The Postoffice was burglarized last night, and very cleverly and systematically the safe of Postmaster J M Bacon was pried open and robbed of some $500 or $600, it is supposed, (Mr Bacon being on a visit to Soda Springs, the exact amount is not known.) Mr Jacob Wortman, who occupied one half of the building, had a thousand dollars in his safe, which the burglars tried hard to get by cutting a large hole through the top of his safe, but it is supposed daylight came on too early for them to finish two safes in one night. It is evident that this "job" has been put up by experienced hands in the business, and the citizens of Oregon may rest assured that there are some crack burglars abroad in the land and should govern themselves accordingly. These fellows cut a hole through a brick wall and struck the catch that held the iron shutters on the inside to a nicety. In cutting out the bricks they took the precaution to lay a large bundle of old gunny bags on the floor to catch the falling brick, in order that no noise should betray them, and not a key or tool of any kind did they leave behind. Many other circumstances go to prove that it was a professional burglar.

DOUGLAS COUNTY LETTER

TEN MILE, Douglas County, Oregon, August 5th, 1872.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

SIR: It is so seldom that we see anything in the columns of your paper from this part of the State that I have concluded to send you a few items.

The farmers have advanced far enough in their work of harvesting to enable us to form a very correct estimate of the yield of grain for this season. On account of the late rains last spring a great deal of grain was not sown until very late, then the dry weather setting in before it had spread sufficiently to protect the roots from the rays of the sun, made the prospect for a good crop appear rather unfavorable. But a good shower of rain about the middle of June gave the late grain a new start, and caused the early to fill well. The yield per acre will not come up to that of former seasons, but the quality of the grain is better than for the last five years, and the breadth of ground sown being greater than ever before the amount of surplus grain will exceed that of last year.

It is presumed that everybody takes some interest in political matters therefore, What I know about Greeleyites will be next in order. The number of voters in this election precinct is somewhere near one hundred and forty very nearly equally divided between the Republican and Democratic parties. I am personally acquainted with most of them and among the whole number I know of not a single Greeley man, that is one who heartily and conscientiously believes that Horace is the man for President. There are perhaps a half dozen that hurrah for Greeley on the anything to beat Grant principle, every one of them being Democrats. I know of no Republican vote that will be given for Greeley, but of several Democratic votes that will not be given for him. If according to your suggestion such counts be made in all the precincts of the State and be taken as a criterion by which to judge the election prospects with a result like unto this Grant will receive a sweeping majority in November. Douglas county will go for Grant.

The Chappaqua Revels

The New York Tribune of July 20 under the head of Chappaqua Revels has the following:

Last Saturday one of our reporters went to Weschester Arcade and brought back a narrative which alarmed Mr Greeley's managers. The notorious Jim Ashley and Mr Greeley entered into a very coarse kind of conversation about the Indianapolis, in which a great many unfeeling and vulgar remarks were made and a rite of the Hebrew faith was brought into ridicule.

There was great indignation expressed among the Hebrews when this became known and the Democratic managers knew that their candidate would soon give the last blow to his fast falling cause if this sort of thing were allowed to continue, so under pretense of fear of the Tribune reporters a notice was issued in the Greeley office, a journal stating that there will be no more public wood chopping at Chappaqua.

This is all very well, but for the candidates papers to speak of these Saturday meetings as private is to the last degree ridiculous. Let anybody look at the Tribune Herald, Times or any Sunday or Monday for weeks past, and he will find true and elaborate accounts of Mr Greeley's proceedings. It is now said by his organ that no reporter was ever invited by Greeley to Chappaqua. He went there to labor in his calling although those who have asked leave to do so have been told they would be welcome, but not to calumniate the guests or report their private conversation. Then why are the guests calumniated week after week in all the newspapers, including Mr Greeley's own office? Of course we followed the generous example. We were not to be left out in the cold, and not to be allowed to publish the news about the Democratic candidate.

The following is a part of the catalogue of guests from the Tribune of the date last mentioned. Judge Regan, of Texas, late Postmaster-General of the Southern Confederacy. Ex Senator William Gwin, Colonel Anderson, George N Sanders, etc. Who would have thought there could be any harm in cataloguing the guests when the Greeley organ set us the example. It would have been the means of bringing this foolery to a close. Greeley's managers ought to thank us.

Now Sanders, Jim Ashley and all the rest of them will no longer eat their cold mutton under the greenwood tree, but on the other hand there will be no more damaging report of Greeley's Indian policy.

A letter from Ashland, Jackson county, says: "We now get the DAILY OREGONIAN twelve hours ahead of the San Francisco Call of the same date.

Last Sunday the change of temperature at Walla Walla within the space of 24 hours was forty degrees.

Remarkable Cure of Mr Abram Tully.

SAN JOSE, August —, 1872.

DR A M LOVELL & Co.—Some two years since I was taken down with Inflammatory Rheumatism, and was for some time treated by two physicians, but got no better. I tried nearly every remedy I heard of, but nothing seemed to do me any good, until about two weeks ago I was advised by Judge J Johnson to try your UNKNOWN REMEDY. I procured one bottle and was entirely cured. For six weeks before taking the UNKNOWN I was compelled to go upon crutches. I consider your remedy a great blessing to suffering humanity, and shall deem it my duty to inform all Rheumatics of its great virtues. Yours etc.,

THURSDAY MORNING AUGUST 8 1872

CITY.

ADDRESS —A certain family who reside in this city —the name does not cut any figure in this story—have two pets a horse and cow which for convenience sake are kept in their back yard One day this week the lady of the manse needed a pan full of fresh leavened dough and seeing on the back porch to allow the heat of the sun to raise it preparatory to the baking process While in that exposed condition being reinforced the horse prompted by instinct and on one fly sauntered up to the pan to see what contained Instead of finding oats or chop he discovered a most delicious morsel in the unbaked dough which just annoted the cravings of an equine palate He waltzed into the contents quicker than one would think the lady came out and drove him from his pleasant repast Having occasion to stop for a few minutes back into the house the lady again left the pan and its partially demolished contents exposed This time the gentle cow made a furious raid on the dough devoured what remained and licked out every particle of the wheaten article Ten minutes later the lady returned to bring in the pan when, to her chagrin and astonishment, not a vestige of the dough remained There the horse stood near at hand a mute witness of this wanton destruction of the staff of life and its perversion from ordinary uses while 'Sukey" provokingly licked her chops in silent pleasure over the delicious meal Now when adding the dough proved a very tough burden to their digestive organs, still at last accounts both the horse and cow were yet alive and well Moral to housewives—Never tempt a hungry cow's appetite with dough especially if unbaked

MORE IMMIGRANTS —Early last spring seven persons hailing from Michigan came to this State as advance agents for a German colony The object of their visit was to examine the different agricultural sections of the country and select the most favorable locality Not finding any lands exactly to their liking in this State they visited Washington Territory and have, we learn selected Camas or Salmon Prairies, in that Territory, as the future location of a large German colony The region selected is a fine, fertile little valley, five miles wide and about fifteen miles long Most of the land has been settled upon but the intention is to purchase a very extensive tract so the land and divide it into small farms for the accommodation of the families One of the agents has returned to Michigan and intends to return this fall, accompanied by fifty families who will settle on the lands already selected Washington Territory ought to be congratulated on the prospective acquisition of such a valuable class of population as these German farmers

DANGEROUS COMBUSTIBLE —Yesterday afternoon a man was seen going leisurely up First street with a small keg of powder on his shoulder and a lighted pipe in his mouth. The staves of the keg had so contracted by the dry weather that between each was spaces sufficiently wide to allow the insertion of a knife blade, and through which the powder was trailing out at every step The fellow was too deeply absorbed in the luxuries of his pipe to give a thought to the loss of his powder, or the danger to which he was exposed At last he was met by the Street Commissioner who halted and quietly suggested that it might probably be as conducive to his long life, happiness and safety to put out his pipe He suddenly awakened to a realization of the chances of a first class explosion, and shipped his old clay pipe in his breast pocket How true it is that a simple suggest on often robs us of a first class item and the undertaker's children go hungry in consequence

EUREKA ENCAMPMENT —George B Taylor organized last week Eureka Encampment No 1, Independent Order of the Champions of the Red Cross with forty charter members The elected officers of this Encampment are W Winne, Eminent Commander, Miss F Skinner, Grand Champion W Seymour, Junior Champion, W V Smith Worthy Secretary, Mrs Hewey, Worthy Treasurer W A, Hart Captain of the Host Appointed officers G W Vollum W C Mrs G W Vollum M of C, Miss Hayden, F L C Vollum P G Mr McCoy, R S Mr Edwards O C R Mrs W Winne, J I N P J W Allen Vice

MAKING WOOD —It is an ill wind that blows no one any good The same rule will apply in the case of high water The recent flood which inundated portions of East Portland has proved of some service to the inhabitants Large quantities of drift wood, logs, etc, were washed into the still waters, and, as the river receded, were stranded In front of the Burk House a number of men are engaged in converting this material into good merchantable cordwood

BOILER AND MACHINERY —The boiler has been placed on the little steamer Marie Wilkins and the engines and other portions of the machinery are being cleaned and put in running condition, preparatory to attaching them to the vessel Everything will be in readiness to make the trial trip by the last of this month, The same engines the wheel and cranks which once belonged to the ill fated Rescue will be used on the new steamer

NEW ROADWAY —The old and decayed sleepers which for so many years supported the plank roadway leading from Front street down to Flanders' wharf at the foot of B Street have for some time past given indications of insecurity to heavily loaded wagons A few days ago both the old worn planks and the rotten timbers underneath have been torn up and a new roadway from the foundation up is being built

DISCHARGED —Solomon Kafka, who was arrested on a charge of having purchased a log chain alleged to have been stolen from John Rines, was tried yesterday morning before Judge Deady The defendant was discharged on the grounds of a confliction in the testimony as to the identity of the chain

FIREMEN'S BADGES —As will be seen by a reference to the proceedings of the Common Council the sum of $200 has been appropriated out of the general fund to be applied towards the purchase of suitable badges or devices to be used by the Fire Department of this city

FINED —Thomas Beale, who was arraigned and tried before Judge Deady, on Tuesday morning charged with having stolen $16 in coin from the counter drawer of Dr G W Brown was found guilty and find by the Court $50 and costs

FOR ASSAULT —The case of the State vs T J Sloan, charged with having resisted and committed an assault on Constable Daly while in the discharge of his official duties, will be tried this afternoon before Justice Ryan at 1 o clock

STILL HERE —In consequence of some difficulty in the making out of the commitment papers Sheriff Caywood has not yet taken Cornelius Gilfoy to the Penitentiary He will probably go to Salem to-day

ARRIVED —The steamer Idaho arrived at this port from San Francisco last evening at half past 9 o'clock She brought a large freight list, 31 cabin and 75 steerage passengers

FOR ASTORIA —The E K Cooke came down from Oregon City yesterday afternoon took on board a quantity of lumber and proceeded to Astoria.

OUT DRILLING —Willamette Engine Co No 1 was out drilling last evening at the corner of Alder and First street

ARRESTS —But three arrests (for simple assaults) have been made by the police as we go to press

ADMITTED —Jas Collins was admitted to citizenship yesterday in the U S District Court

Why appear among your friends in an ill fitting suit of clothes when opportunity is offered to remedy the matter Without delay wend your way to the corner of Washington and First streets where you will find in the establishment of Elfelt & Roberts a large stock of the finest cloths Select from the same piece your order in the hands of their new cutter and in a few days call again to see what you should have—a perfect fitting suit clothing at a low price.

THERE IN BEING are a sore drawback on personal appearance and personal comfort Therefore keep them in good repair with that established and dote for all the diseases that assail them fragrant SOZODONT 9

LYON'S MOORS TABLETS overcome all the objections made to cooling powders and washes

AN ARTICLE OF TRUE MERIT —BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES are the most popular article in this country or Europe for Throat Diseases and Coughs and this popularity is based upon real merit.

HOLLY WATER WORKS

PORTLAND Aug 1

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I notice in this morning's Herald an article giving the following statistics in relation to Binghampton N Y and Portland Oregon

	Binghampton	Portland
Population	13 000	10 000
Daily fire	$ 500	$ 4
Insurance on all	$4 000	$

Binghampton the writer asserts has no use the Holly system of Water Works while Portland has the reservoir system from whence the said writer declares the chemicals and preparations can lie on that the fire service of Binghampton is not equal to that of Portland The writer forgets some very important facts which will go very far towards dispelling his innocent deductions An fire insurance agent of Portland or any other man will tell him that in regard to fires Portland is one of the most secure cities of the world having no reference whatever to any systems of fire protection We seldom have such gales as in the Atlantic states prove such great auxiliaries to fires and besides our fir timber of which our buildings are erected unlike any other building timber of the world will char sooner upon the application of water I would not wish it to be inferred that I would say aught against our Fire Department because I believe it is as efficient as any in the world and is composed of as noble fellows but even considering that the above figures are correct I am still of the conviction that the Holly Water system will furnish as good fire protection as is possible at a greatly decreased expense from our present system besides alleviating the entire population of this city from the present grievous water taxation Will not the indefatigable statistician of the Herald furnish the public also with the relative cost of water to the inhabitants of Binghampton and Portland? Perhaps such figures might overcome those above given By the way, is the Portland City Council taking a Rip Van Winkle nap on this water question?

DR E B FREELAND, DENTIST.

What We Need when Debilitated

Appetite and digestion languish at this season At the very time when the body most needs renovation and support The stomach its commissariat department is apt to prove delinquent Under such circumstances the unerring for a wholesome stimulant tonic and corrective is self-evident and consequently the demand for that peerless combination of these three quired elements Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is never more urgent than at mid summer

It is true that a few medical bigots—fossils left over from the dark ages—recommend violent purgation and water gruel as a cure for indigestion and its accompanying ills but they make a few proselytes The majority of the community recognize and all sane people are aware that a pure and powerful vegetable tonic with alterative properties, like Hostetter's Bitters is the only cure for dyspepsia biliousness, constipation nervousness and the "consequential damages" they inflict

The human intellect, unless hopelessly diseased or egregiously bombugged, declines to astonish the weak and timid human stomach with fierce cathartics that rushing like an avalanche through the intestines threaten to take the inner membrance with them To use a significant catch phrase the knock-down-and-drag out methods of treatment are "played out"

It is clearly understood that a medicated stimulant is essential to the renovation of an exhausted frame and that you cannot strengthen man or woman by dosing them with prostrating preparations. This is an era of common sense, and common sense approves of Hostetter's Bitters as the best article extant for invigorating regulating and purifying the system and defending it against poison in the air we breathe or the water we drink

Verse.

Silent some still there, haply it were well
If they who name these men could earn a fame
For deeds, not words, as these have been. There the scene
Were then as glamorous as a new-sown hell.
The carping malcontents would shiver; humbler

he nation trusted those whom now fixed, ettling for life against the torrent and foes
ne placed those where to act when came exposure
And the unsheathed sword, and she will trust them yet.
Nameless the mighty creators remain these. It was.

The Wrong Kind of a Hotel.

The Brussels Echo de Parlement tells a pleasant story of an English-man and his wife who not knowing a word of German, but being able to express themselves well in French, resolved to visit Berlin and Dresden. At Berlin they had been recommended to a hotel, whither they were riding in a hack, when all at once the lady espied an imposing edifice upon which were inscribed in large letters the words "Hotel Radzevill." She cried out, "There is a beautiful hotel, and the situation is splendid." "Supposewe go there?" suggested the husband. "All right." It was done as soon as said. The driver was stopped. There were several ladies about the hotel, but none of them spoke either English or French. However the servants were made to understand by gestures that they were to take in the luggage, and the travelers were ceremoniously conducted into an apartment. The lady asked by signs for a sleeping room, to which she was led, and on her return said to her husband: "I never saw in all my life a hotel so admirably furnished. Come and see the chamber and sleeping room!" Having dressed, our English folk lunched and announced to the servants that they would dine at five. They went to walk. On their return a gentleman of distinguished appearance entered their room, saluted them and said something in German which they did not understand. The Englishman, thinking him a little familiar, replied carelessly in English, "Good morning. How do you do?" And the stranger withdrew. A delicious dinner was served. When the servants had gone, "My dear," said the gentleman to his wife, "all this is excellent. This is evidently first-class. But it must be very very dear, and as a matter of prudence it will be well to ask for the bill to-morrow morning." But he neglected to do so, and two days more passed like the first. At last the bill was asked for, but it was not brought. "I am beginning to be a little uneasy, my dear," said the husband. "Surely no one could be better cared for than we are here, but I am persuaded the charges will be frightful." At that moment the gentleman of distinguished appearance entered, and the following dialogue took place:

The Stranger—"I am Prince Radzievill."

The Englishman (rising and bringing a chair)—"To what may I attribute the honor of this visit?"

The Prince—"You have evidently taken this house for a public hotel."

The Englishman—"Certainly."

The Prince—"Well, this is my private house, my hotel."

The Englishman was so astonished that he could make no reply and could not explain the mistake of his wife, who, in the greatest consternation, began to tell the prince in English that the word "hotel" over the door had caused her error. The prince, who saw their confusion, politely expressed his satisfaction at having given hospitality to English people, and begged them to remain a few days longer that he might enjoy their society. Of course the invitation was politely declined. The Englishman succeeded in making the servants accept a few presents, and the prince insisted upon accompanying them to a real "hotel" in his own carriage. Prince Radzievill is the Prussian Ambassador at Berlin.

Theodore Tilton says in his paper, "Save me from a God who damns." An acquaintance replies: "We should like to do it, my boy, but the thing is impossible."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Aug. 7, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 114¼.

Portland Legal Tenders rate, 80½c buying; 87½ selling.

The bark Rival reached this port to-day in tow of the Sea Witch. She had a rough and tedious passage to the Bar from San Francisco. The Rival brings 610 tons of assorted cargo. She is discharging cargo at Flanders' wharf.

The value of goods imported at this port from foreign countries during the month of July was $168,046. Of this value, the large part consisted of Sugar and Rice. Duties collected during the month amounted to $40,064. Exports for the for July amounted to $61,030, mostly Wheat and Flour. During the month five vessels arrived from, and five departed to, foreign ports. Coastwise arrivals during the month, 11; departures do, 8.

The tonnage in Europe and the United States during the first five months of the present year have been 36,000 tons more Cane Sugar than last season, and are equal to the total of last year's, while the deliveries have been 48,000 tons large than 1871, and 40,000 tons larger than 1870, and the stock on the 1st ult. was 42,000 tons less than a year previous, and 84,000 tons less than two years ago. The estimate for England, on the other hand, are 19,000 tons larger than a year ago, being 57,000 tons against 18,000 tons then. For Holland, from Java, they are 24,000 tons, against 25,000 tons in 1871, and 63,000 in 1870.

In May there were 40,340 tons Iron Rails exported from Great Britain to the United States, against 64,444 tons in May, 1871; and for the five months of this year to the 1st of June, 221,023 tons, against 199,455 tons in the same time in 1871. The entire export of Rails for the first five months of the year amount to 368,878 tons, against 373,139 in the corresponding time last year, and 431,235 tons the year before.

It is a well established law of trade that an advance in raw material is felt but gradually in the manufactured articles, and that the further we go from the raw material the slower is the movement. This is exemplified in the present condition of affairs. Coal is a raw material to the production of iron, and while it has advanced from 70 to 130 per cent. in a year, pig iron has followed at a slower rate. In June, 1871, Great Britain exported 99,786 tons of pig iron, valued at £298,981, or almost exactly three pounds sterling a ton. In June, 1872, the export was 156,405 tons, and the value £600,952, or 5 pounds a ton,—an advance of sixty-six per cent. Proceeding another step, we find that bar iron has increased in price only fifty-one per cent. and railroad iron in about the same proportion; but wire, which involves another remove from the raw material, has advanced only about twelve per cent. It is inevitable, however, that all grades of iron shall sympathize fully with the improvement in pig iron, sooner or later. The present, therefore, seems to be an admirable opportunity for American iron manufacturers. The increase of wages and of the cost of living in England is understood to be permanent. This of itself diminishes one of the chief advantages against us. There is encouragement for our works at Oswego to go ahead.

Domestic Produce.

WHEAT—Prices in San Francisco are without special change. The market is scarcely quotable here. No new is yet offered in this market.

FLOUR—Nothing to note. Local demand. Standard brands, $6 75; ord'y, $4 50@5 00 per bbl.

OATS—Quotable at about $1 75. Transactions quite limited.

EGGS—Market somewhat weaker. We quote to-day 30@35c.

POTATOES—Oregon of good quality very abundant, and offering at 1c ₱ lb.

WOOL—A report from San Francisco notes some small sales of Oregon fleece at 35@37½c, but otherwise there is nothing to report. The great bulk of stock yet remaining in warehouse is of inferior quality, burry and dirty. This season's business has been very unsatisfactory to teamsters, and especially so to the "go-between operators" and speculators, who purchased largely before shearing all they could secure, and at prices far above current market rates

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 6, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the City of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, upon recent declarations of principles, appeals to its history, and its organization for the ensuing campaign, do

1. During the eleven years of its existence it has accepted with grand courage the most stupendous of the times, has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibit against parallel supernaturally, it constantly patrolled it from for political offenses and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It inherited a new, it has forward the Indiana; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted; the national finances have been thoroughly reformed and successfully managed; the currency of the country has been made sound and unquestioned, and the national indebtedness has been largely reduced and all the industrial interests of the country have been carefully guarded and fostered, and a just balance of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit, and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens. It has negotiated the bonds at lower rates of interest. The resources have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation the public debt has been reduced during U. S. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A severe financial crisis has been averted, and peace and prosperity prevail throughout the land. Nowhere are foreign influences have been peacefully and honorably suppressed and the honor and power of the Nation kept firm in high position throughout the world. It is indeed true that in the past in the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who clearly have resisted every step in this honorable progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Not her law for the administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely because they are law, and should be carried out in accordance with their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, respecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are conferred rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except so much as may be derived from taxes on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors who carried the flag to victory in the hour of darkness. Their pensioners are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the time of their country's need, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of any citizen to transfer his allegiance, and being been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumptions of nativeborn claims by their former Government, and we urge a candid and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled a manifest duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of asserting constitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-buildings.

18. We believe that the present patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.
